

BASC August Monthly Meeting
8/28/23

Huntsville, AL Bike Route
Discussion

Where do the bike routes go to?

Map shows some of the possible destinations to consider as "nodes" where bike routes are going somewhere people might actually go to. Color code shows the differences of the bike routes and does not describe difficulty.

Further Input of this map is requested→ Add comments by contacting hsvbasc256@gmail.com or add comments to BASC Facebook post.

Additional Huntsville City resources:

Bike Route maps:

<https://www.huntsvilleal.gov/residents/streets/bicycling/>

Greenway map:

<https://www.huntsvilleal.gov/development/building-construction/planning/long-range-planning/greenways/>

Difficulty of Bike Routes (Overview view)

A map of bike routes color-coded by "difficulty" - which takes into account slope/hill, experience needed (road layout/crossings), confidence (taking the lane, crossing main roads) and how busy the road is.

Color-code:

1. Green - most bikers
2. Blue - confident bikers
3. Red - experienced bikers
4. Black - advanced riders/dangerous sections

Further Input of this map is requested→ Add comments by contacting hsvbasc256@gmail.com or add comments to BASC Facebook post.

Difficulty of Bike Routes (Central view)

A map of bike routes color-coded by "difficulty" - which takes into account slope/hill, experience needed (road layout/crossings), confidence (taking the lane, crossing main roads) and how busy the road is.

Color-code:

1. Green - most bikers
2. Blue - confident bikers
3. Red - experienced bikers
4. Black - advanced riders/dangerous sections

Further Input of this map is requested→ Add comments by contacting hsvbasc256@gmail.com or add comments to BASC Facebook post.

